

Li Tells Reds To Quit Raising New Issues

Asks Commies To Start Peace Talks

Nanking, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Acting President Li Tsung-Jen today told China's Communists in effect to quit raising new demands and begin peace talks. Li struggled with the task of trying to arrange a nation-wide settlement while apparently approving attempts at separate peace deals for Nanking, Shanghai and Hankow.

The Reds were reported putting the pressure on Hankow, huge central government base more than 300 miles southwest of Nanking. Brief reports reaching Nanking said at least 120,000 Red troops from the central China command were massing north of Hankow. Some were said to be already moving toward that big Yangtze river city. Li is almost alone in this capital, which is resorted of nearly all officials. But he appeared to be winning a fight to persuade some of them to return and help the peace negotiations along.

A source close to Li said the acting president had induced Premier Sun Fo and various cabinet ministers now in Shanghai to return. The Reds have been suspicious of all government peace offers as long as officials were retreating to Canton and elsewhere.

The informant said Li had given up plans to go to Canton Saturday, the day the new capital is to begin functioning in that south China city. Instead he will stay here and work for peace.

Stop Irrelevant Issues
In this connection Li's office issued a statement to be sent to the Communist leadership saying: "If you keep on raising irrelevant issues, one today and another tomorrow, we would find it impossible to meet your demands."

Li referred to the latest broadcast. Communist demand that he arrest government leaders as "war criminals" and turn over various Japanese war crimes suspects if he wanted a peace conference.

Li's statement took the position that the original Communist conditions for peace talks were merely points for the basis of negotiations. The Reds say at least some of these conditions, such as the arrest of "war criminals," must be met first.

The acting president insisted the government still could fight but was unwilling to continue civil war "because the nation and its people today can no longer bear the evil of war."

Most observers thought Li had the best of the "war of words" but he still is in an almost impossible situation.

Criminal List Is Offensive

If the Reds insist on the arrest of "war criminals," Li won't be able to get anywhere. Even should he sign a peace agreement with the Reds, the cabinet would never give the necessary OK. Most of them are on the Red list.

The status of separate peace moves for China's cities, on the basis of the best information here is:

Nanking—A group of Nanking professors is waiting for a special plane, which will fly them to Peiping. There they will discuss the prospects of a separate peace agreement for Nanking and vicinity.

Shanghai—Li on his visit Monday is believed to have persuaded municipal political leaders to fly to Peiping and learn the details of a settlement for that region.

Hankow—Li's old comrade-at-arms, Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi is reported studying "steps for a separate peace, possibly modeled after the Peiping settlement."

(In Peiping, Associated Press Correspondent Spencer Moosa reported the provisional joint committee of four Communists and three Nationalists was formally installed.

This committee will rule Peiping during a "transition" period. Gen. Yeh Chien-Ying, chief of the Communist delegation, presided.)

Vets Put In Bids For War Surplus Homes In Illiopolis

Decatur, Ill., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Fourteen married veterans of World War II who are in need of suitable housing, have put in bids for war surplus staff homes at Illiopolis, Ill.

The veterans formed a group called the Illinois Veterans association and incorporated it under state law. It is a non-profit organization.

The association bid on 14 of 30 surplus houses at the former Sargam-Ordnance plant, Illiopolis. The houses formerly were occupied by the ordnance plant staff. They are four and six-room units.

A check for 10 per cent of the fair price of the units was sent to Otto G. Klein, regional War Assets administration director in Chicago. A sealed bid accompanied the check.

U.S. Hopes Norway Will Enter Atlantic Pact

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The State Department was obviously pleased tonight by Norway's apparent determination to line up with the Atlantic powers, despite Russian pressure.

Norway and several other states will soon be invited to join negotiations for a North Atlantic security treaty, the department disclosed.

The American government's position was made known officially about the same time that the Norwegian government was politely but firmly turning aside a Russian note objecting to the pact. This note was evidently designed to discourage Norway from joining in the agreement.

The reply released in Oslo tonight showed that the Norwegian government, despite the fact that Russia is a neighbor with a common border, had taken a firm stand on two points:

1. The Russians were advised—as the neutrality-minded Swedish government had previously been told last weekend—that Norway was considering the possibility of lining up with the Atlantic powers. In the absence of an invitation to the talks here, this appeared to be about as far as the Oslo government could properly go at the moment.

2. The Russians were also advised that Norway had no intention of granting bases to foreign powers unless under attack or the threat of an attack. Authorities here did not appear off hand to regard this as a crippling reservation although the establishment of bases obviously will be an important part of the projected security system. Washington experts could see no reason why Norwegians themselves could not create and maintain adequate air and naval bases under their own control but available for use by any friendly nation in the event Norway needed help.

State Department officials withheld any formal comment on the Norwegian note. They took the position that it was a matter of considerable delicacy as far as the United States was concerned and that the Norwegians, confident of western power cooperation, were working this problem out for themselves in their own way.

Nevertheless, official informants have long said privately that the Scandinavian countries belong as much in the Atlantic community as do any of the other member nations. They were obviously pleased that the Norwegians would not permit any Russian pressure—whether direct or implied—to divert their policies.

Reimann, Russian Watch On Rhine, Gets Prison Term

Dusseldorf, Germany, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Max Reimann, the Kremlin's chief watchman on the Rhine, was sentenced today to three months in jail for an inflammatory speech delivered once too often.

It was a speech in which he said German politicians who cooperate with the western allies, particularly in setting up an international authority for the Ruhr, are quislings, who will have to account to the German people.

Reimann got away with the declaration in the U. S. zone, but was arrested on a charge of violating anti-Communist regulations when he repeated it before 5,000 Germans in the British zone Jan. 2.

Harassed by communist demonstrations, a British military court convicted him today of attempting to inflame the German people against fellow Germans cooperating with the western allies.

Proposal To Ban Filibuster To Go To Rules Group

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—A proposed change in the senate debate rules to outlaw the filibuster comes before the Senate Rules committee for a decision tomorrow.

Southern senators who want to retain the tradition of unlimited debate took last minute swings at the proposal today.

Despite their outspoken criticism, the committee is expected to recommend a resolution which would permit the senate to close off debate at a time by a two-thirds vote of its members. At present, the two-thirds rule applies only to a debate on a bill, not to arguments on motions and other matters.

Chairman Hayden (D-Ariz.) called a closed door meeting of the rules committee for tomorrow afternoon (4 p.m. CST) to vote on the proposed change in rules.

GETS EVERYONE TO THE GAME BUT HIMSELF

Columbus, O., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Capital University's Publicity Director John Kordecki overbid his job today.

The publicity director persuaded all of Capital's coeds to attend the traditional basketball game tonight between Capital and Otterbein College. But, Kordecki can't attend. He can't find a baby sitter.

Ask $2,000,000 For Flood Relief To Stricken Areas

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—(AP)—An emergency relief grant of $2,000,000, chiefly for southern Illinois where 1,000 persons were evacuated from their homes last week, was proposed today in the legislature.

Senators from flood damaged areas submitted the bill and asked for speedy action on it because of the "danger of epidemics in some communities."

The money would go for health protection and repair of roads and public buildings in the stricken areas.

Senator John T. Thomas (R-Belleville), one of the bill's sponsors, said he hoped to have a committee hearing soon so the legislature can vote on it without delay.

Murphysboro, Carmel, Mt. Carmel and surrounding communities were hit last week by flood waters of the

Hungary Formally Lines Up With Soviet Bloc

Budapest, Hungary, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The Republic of Hungary became a "people's republic" today.

(The change gives Communist Hungary the actual form of other people's republics, Poland, for example, which are satellites of Soviet Russia. Hungary has had practically everything but the formal name for a long time. Presumably the change removed the last obstacle to full fledged treaties with other countries in the Soviet sphere.)

A formal statement accompanying proclamation of the change said "American imperialists and their satellites now replace German fascists" as enemies of people's democracies.

"Hungary aims to maintain friendly economic and political connections with all countries, provided they do not interfere with our internal affairs," the statement added.

Senate Democrats Put Off Spending Estimate For 1950

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Law or no law, Democratic senators decided today that congress can't estimate accurately in the next two weeks how much it's going to cost to run the government in fiscal 1950.

Accordingly, they decided that something must be done about the February 15 deadline set by the congressional reorganization law for approval of a spending ceiling.

In a general conference of all Democratic members, the senators agreed to let the chairman of the four taxing and spending committees of congress fix a new deadline. Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) said the new date might be April 1, April 15, or May 1.

In addition, the four chairmen were instructed to study repeal of the section requiring the budget estimate.

The chairmen are Senator George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance committee, Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) of Senate appropriations, Rep. Doughton (D-NC) of the house ways and means, and Rep. Cannon (D-Mo) of house appropriations.

Hungary Will Not Let West In On Cardinal's Trial

London, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The western press will encounter difficulties in trying to report the trial of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, unless the Hungarian government has a sudden change of heart.

It developed today that a dozen or more correspondents who applied for permission to enter Hungary still are cooling their heels outside the borders of the Communist-dominated country.

The Cardinal's trial is scheduled to start Thursday in Budapest. He is charged with treason and espionage. Western newspapers and news agencies have been hoping to give the trial extended coverage, in view of the serious nature of the charges and the fact that he has had no opportunity to make a public statement since his arrest Dec. 27.

Urges Immigration Bars On Refugees Be Lifted In U.S.

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Congress today was urged to lift immigration bars for nearly 200,000 more war refugees and to wipe out alleged "discrimination" against Jews and others.

If congress approves, this would mean a total of 400,000 homeless Europeans would be brought to the United States within the next four years.

The displaced person commission made the recommendation in a report saying the refugees should be chosen without regard to race, religion or national origin. They should also be admitted, the commission said, without being charged against future normal immigration quotas.

The three-man commission proposed numerous other major changes in the controversial legislation, enacted by the Republican-controlled 80th congress, which President Truman sharply criticized when he signed the measure last week.

Hear Automatic SOS Of Crashed Plane In Florida

Jacksonville Beach, Fla., Feb. 1.—(AP)—The Coast Guard said it picked up an automatic SOS signal apparently from an airplane down at sea tonight.

The Coast Guard said the signal was first heard at 6:12 p.m. (CST) and has come at every silent period twice an hour—silence.

Checks were being made at stations ranging from New Orleans to New York to locate the signal. A tentative fix, which they emphasized was by no means positive, put the location off Pensacola, Fla., in the Gulf of Mexico at latitude 28.45 north and longitude 87.45 west.

The Coast Guard at Charleston, S.C., and a Savannah, Ga., source also reported hearing the radio SOS signals.

Report Decline Of Beef Prices

Chicago, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Declining wholesale prices of quality beef have resulted in retailers "now offering beef cuts at much lower prices than has been possible for many months," the American Meat Institute said today.

The institute reported that wholesale prices have continued downward since last week and now have dropped on representative markets as much as 35 per cent below the peaks of last September.

Ching Hits Shifting Of Mediation Service

Truman Men Oppose New Vet Pension Bill

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The served 90 days in either of the two world wars to qualify for the pension bill which it estimated would cost almost $2,000,000,000 the first month with no proviso that the disability must have been incurred in service.

Gray said that while he was neither opposing nor favoring the proposal in his role as veterans administrator its "potential magnitude" must be weighed closely now to prevent unwarranted financial outlays in the future. He said the cost burden might be "sufficiently great" to endanger the entire veterans compensation program.

He estimated that during the first year of operations the bill would cover 2,661,800 veterans at a cost of $1,839,000,000. But by 1955, he said, "over 8,000,000 World War II veterans will be age 60 or over."

Gray said "I can't estimate the ultimate cost yet because we can't get into these disability clauses."

He told the committee that the Rankin bill not only is contrary to the administration program but also departs from legislative policy previously established by congress on two counts:

1. It provides pensions benefits "without any limitation as to the employability or economic status of the potential beneficiary."

2. It calls for both pension and disability payments which he said congress opposed in 1934 when it outlined a policy of limiting such awards to one form—pensions, compensation or retirement pay.

Gray referred the committee to the veterans program Mr. Truman outlined early last month in his budget message.

The hotel register could not be found but Police Chief Ira Dunham said all but six of the 48 guests in the hotel's 40 rooms had been located. Several were in hospitals, suffering from injuries and exposure, while others were quartered in nearby private homes.

Search Hotel Fire Ruins To Find Six Bodies Of Guests

Ripon, Wis., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Firemen pulled down the blackened, fire-scarred walls of the Grand View hotel today as they prepared to search the rubble for the bodies of six persons believed to have perished in an early morning blaze.

Heat from still glowing embers delayed temporarily the grim task of weary fire fighters. Crews continued to pour water into the wreckage of the four-story brick veneer building which was turned into a raging inferno early today.

Some 42 persons fled from the blaze in their night clothing. Many groped their way down fire escapes and smoke filled stairways. A few jumped and were injured. The screams of a chambermaid awakened many of the guests.

The hotel register could not be found but Police Chief Ira Dunham said all but six of the 48 guests in the hotel's 40 rooms had been located. Several were in hospitals, suffering from injuries and exposure, while others were quartered in nearby private homes.

Government Says X-1 Test Plane Will Go 800 MPH

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Government officials acknowledged today that the air force's tiny "faster-than-sound" test plane has flown faster than 850 miles an hour and reached an altitude above 40,000 feet.

Just how much faster than 850 miles and just how high the little X-1 rocket-powered ship has flown still is wrapped in the tightest secrecy. Unofficial information is that its best speed has been around 1,000 miles an hour and its best altitude something more than 60,000 feet.

At 60,000 feet the speed of sound is 660 M.P.H.

Officials merely said the man-piloted craft has reached more than half way toward the goals of 1,700 miles an hour and 80,000 feet altitude for which it was designed.

Latest speculation as to the maximum speed and height thus far attained by the X-1 followed an address in Cleveland last night by Lawrence D. Bell, his company—the Bell Aircraft Co., of Niagara Falls, N. Y.—and the air materiel command of the air force built the rocket ship.

Illinois Demos Begin Drive For New State Constitution

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Governor Stevenson and Democratic-Republican sponsors today began a full-scale campaign to get Illinois a new constitution.

They introduced in both Houses of the legislature two bills which would:

1. Let the people vote in November, 1950, on whether to call a convention in 1951 or later to rewrite the entire basic law, which now is 79 years old.

2. Change the ballot law to give political parties responsibility for favoring or opposing a new constitution. This is intended to improve the chances of having a convention approved by the people.

The legislation is the first major assembly goal of the new Democratic governor. Although he is confident it will be enacted at this session, it has been defeated many times before and strong opposition is developing again.

Defenders of the 1870 constitution include AFL, farm and manufacturing groups. Some hostility comes from those who fear a graduated income tax—now forbidden by a uniform taxation clause.

Stevenson is supported by some lawyer, civic and women's groups in his contention that a new constitution is needed to break down what they call outmoded restrictions which bar the way to "needs of the present day."

His fight for a new constitution is expected to be a bitter assembly struggle. It may not be finally decided until May or June.

Although both bills have bipartisan sponsorship, Republicans are expected to break ranks at this juncture and Stevenson will keep Democrats solidly behind him. Many downstate are opposed to wholesale revision of the constitution.

Says Move Will Be Step Backwards

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP) Cyrus S. Ching, director of the federal mediation service, told Congress today that shifting his agency into the labor department would be a "step backwards."

In this he flatly opposed the recommendations of the Truman administration and Secretary of Labor Tobin.

Ching, a pipe-smoking man 6 feet 7 inches tall and 72 years old, also cautioned congress against passing a "get even" labor law. He asked for a law that would be a "basis for sound relations." But he didn't give details to the Senate labor committee, which listened to his testimony.

Does Not Take Sides
On the ground that he is an impartial mediator, Ching didn't take sides on most of the hot questions involved in the administration's drive to junk the Taft-Hartley act and substitute a law more favorable to unions.

To the disappointment of some of the Republicans on the committee, Ching wouldn't recommend keeping the Taft-Hartley law's provision for 80-day injunctions to delay "national emergency" strikes. Nor would he recommend that these injunctions be abolished, as proposed in the administration bill.

In defending the independent status of his own agency, however, Ching was positive and detailed.

The Senators questioned him so long there was no time left for Paul Herzog, chairman of the national labor relations board. Herzog now is scheduled to appear tomorrow.

The committee is working against a self-imposed February 10 deadline, yet so far the proceedings have proceeded at a leisurely pace.

Tobin Favors Bill
Secretary Tobin, testifying yesterday in favor of the administration bill, had told the committee the mediation service would remain "impartial" as a part of the labor department.

Ching said today that impartiality which is not supported by a "reputation for impartiality" is "of little value" in mediating labor disputes. He said that, rightly or wrongly, businessmen would suspect the service of favoring labor unions if it were put back in the department, or anybody in it.

Replying to questions for Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Donnell (R-Mo.), Ching said that whether he personally continues the job of mediation, or someone else, "is not a burning public question." The important thing, he said, is that government mediators occupy a position that will "immunize them from the slightest suspicion that they favor any interest other than that of the whole people of the United States."

GOP Out In Force
The five Republicans on the committee were out in force today but only three of the eight Democratic members were there. The others were attending a meeting of Senate Democrats.

After the hearing, the committee chairman, Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah), who is sponsoring the Truman bill, informed a newsman he still favors the transfer of the Mediation Service.

Senator Morse (R-Ore.) questioned Ching for nearly an hour concerning the national emergency provision. Morse said he is at work "trying to find some middle ground" between the injunction procedure in the Taft-Hartley act and the voluntary 30-day cooling-off procedure in the administration bill.

Show Ladies Shoe With 9-Inch Heels

London, Feb. 1.—(AP)—A ladies' "shoe of the future" with nine-inch heels was shown to visitors at the London shoe and leather fair today.

It looks a little bit like a short cowboy boot made of black suede trimmed with golden lizard.

And it has pockets on the side to carry a compact, a lipstick and a purse.

The exhibitors said they realized the model is a little advanced for 1949, so the shoe is for exhibition only.

A $100,000,000 DITCH

(From The Peoria Journal-Transcript)

Expenditure of $100,000,000 for the digging of a new canal across northern Illinois to connect the Illinois and Mississippi rivers is being considered by the federal government.

The new waterway would replace the placid Hennepin canal whose waters have been scarcely rippled by the passage of a commercial craft in all the years of its existence. There is little reason to expect that a $100,000,000 successor would be of much more value than the entirely useless Hennepin.

Life magazine in this week's issue takes the editorial writers of the nation to task for their criticism of the Truman budget without mention of specific places where economies could be made. Well, the proposed canal is one place the government could save $100,000,000 that it is now contemplating wasting.

A new canal could serve little practical purpose. A few manufacturing plants adjacent to its banks are promoting its digging in the expectation that their transportation costs would be lowered. Their number is small and it is unreasonable for them to expect the people of the United States to provide them with a means of cheap water transportation to the disadvantage of their competitors.

If a river already existed at the place where the canal is to be dug needing only widening and deepening, the project would not be so preposterous, but to dig an entirely new channel 62 miles long borders on the foolhardy.

Give Savings Of Deceased Child To March Of Dimes

Carrollton—Little two-year old Michael Blakey lost his life in August of 1948 in a fight against infantile paralysis, but in order that other children might live, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Blakey of near Roodhouse, gave the contents of their child's bank to the March of Dimes drive for funds which is now in progress in Greene county.

The gift of $8.20 was given through the Liberty school District No. 73 near Patterson and was turned in at the office of C. A. Whiteside, county superintendent of schools. The Blakey gift formed the major part of the schools total of $11.75.

Michael Blakey died in St. John's hospital in Springfield after being a patient there for one day.

Mrs. Gussie Frazier is the teacher in the Liberty school and through her the story of the Blakey's was made public.

Dates For Field Encampments of I.N.G. Announced

An estimated eighteen thousand Illinois National Guardsmen in 275 units from ninety communities throughout the State will participate in their second postwar fifteen day field training encampments during July and August. Major General Joseph A. Teece, the Commanding General of Troops, announced Tuesday.

Training for Illinois ground units will be conducted in two increments at Camp McCoy, near Sparta, Wisconsin, while Air units will base at Camp Williams, Wis. The 65,000 acre modern Wisconsin encampment was selected this year to enable the Thirty Third and Forty Fourth Infantry Divisions to engage in team training with their supporting artillery battalions for the first time since reorganization, General Teece stated.

Planned activities will consist of first year field training under the new three year training plan and will emphasize leadership, discipline and field consciousness, he added. Emphasis also will be placed on wholesome sports and recreation with a well planned program of athletics to insure balanced work and play for Illinois Guardsmen.

Tentative 1949 field training dates are as follows:
July 23-Aug. 6, inclusive: Camp McCoy, Wis. 33rd Infantry Division, 178th Regimental Combat Team, 623d Quartermaster Group (all Chicago).

Aug. 13-27, inclusive: Camp McCoy, Wis. 44th Infantry Division (77 down-state communities) 109th Antiaircraft Brigade (Chicago and Bloomington) 106th Cavalry Reconnaissance Squadron (Urbana and Springfield).

Aug. 6-20, inclusive: Camp Williams, Wis. Sixty Sixth Fighter Wing (Chicago, Peoria and Springfield).

Meanwhile with the recent lifting of strength ceilings, Illinois National Guard units are again accepting recruits for the first time since last June. Youths under 18 years of age are draft deferred on enlistment, and qualified veterans are offered direct commissions and top ratings as instructors and technicians.

The gift of $8.20 was given through the Liberty school District No. 73 near Patterson and was turned in at the office of C. A. Whiteside, county superintendent of schools. The Blakey gift formed the major part of the schools total of $11.75.

Husband Sues For $15,000 Damages In Wife's Death

Jerseyville, Jan. 31—A suit for damages in the sum of $15,000 was filed Saturday in the Jersey County circuit court by William Ontis, administrator of the estate of Agnes Ontis, deceased, against G. W. Wieneke of Rosedale Township.

The suit is the outgrowth of an accident which occurred October 1, 1948 about 6:30 p.m. on State Route No. 100 about one-fourth mile south of the junction of Route 100 and Route 16.

According to the bill of complaint, Agnes Ontis died October 4, 1948 as the result of fatal injuries received in a collision between a tractor driven by her husband, William Ontis, and a pickup truck driven by G. W. Wieneke. According to the bill both vehicles were going in the generally southerly direction at the time and the truck struck the tractor from the rear, and Mrs. Ontis was thrown to the pavement. The injured woman was removed to St. Joseph's hospital in Alton where she died October 4th.

THE STORY: Six Conover's trick memory, which retains facts till they're sold aloud, wins a vacation for herself and her husband, John Henry, at the swank Las Vegas resort in Azusa, Calif. After analyzing the Conover's cottage, Gaynor, the hotel clerk, immediately puts in a call to a Mr. Barselou.

"CRICKETS chirped like traitors every place but where he stepped. Anglin stopped for a minute to listen, hoping the bugs would shut up. They didn't, but silence hung behind him like a curtain across the grass and palm trees in the rear of the Las Dumas. His boots were making too much noise on the flagstone path. Better take to the grass, though he was pretty sure he'd taken them off for a little while, anyway. The wound in his shoulder had opened again. It burned with a steady flame and the blood trickled down over his hand. Odell had been smarter and faster than he looked. It was dark here in the canyon back of the hotel—a graveyard of shadows because no breeze stirred. He was the only shadow that moved. It was a good thing the cottages were white stucco under their red tile roofs. They strung out in a straight row for him to count. He couldn't read the numbers because the moon hadn't shown up yet and he was afraid to use his flashlight. The seventh cottage. Anglin got dizzy suddenly. He'd probably lost too much blood and then he was tired to start with. Tired and nervous. But his shadow continued to march along the wet velvet grass.

"Nothing better go haywire," he growled. He wanted to get rid of the whole thing and clear out. The tenth cottage. It was dark, too. He veered over to the opposite side of the walk. Just four more to go and he could deliver the goods and vanish. Be good to rest for a long time.

The 13th cottage and the next one ought to—He froze as a bat fanned skittishly by his broad-brimmed hat. Crises, he was jumpy. But why shouldn't he be? It wasn't any piker stunt to play two hands in this game. Both Barselou and—but he knew where the Queen was holed up. That was all that had kept him alive today.

AH, here it was. He stepped confidently up the flagstone walk to the blue wooden door. From inside came the murmur of voices and a little light seeped through the Venetian window blinds onto his dirty leather jacket. Anglin was a squat man with skin as weather-beaten as his clothes. He braced himself momentarily against the white stucco of the porch and shook his foggy head. His calloused hand left a smear of blood when he withdrew it. The ornate door handle felt cold to his grip. He squeezed it and stepped into the small living room.

Darkness here. Some light fell in a lopsided rectangle from the open door to the bedroom. Beyond that somewhere, a man was singing in an untrained voice. "Beautiful dreamer, wake unto me." An invisible woman spoke from the bedroom. Her voice was startled into a squeak. "Who's that?"

His clumsy fingers found the night latch and twisted it home. The noise made the woman say again, frightened. "Who's that? Is somebody in there?"

She was as jumpy as he was. But whoever she was this trip she ought to be better trained than to yell like that. He told her in a low voice. "Shut up, for the love of Mike."

She let out a gasp as he moved into the patch of light on the carpet. Anglin could see her now, standing still as a rock before the imitation ivory dressing table. Her face that watched him with wide green eyes in the mirror didn't have any more color than the table top. The brush she'd been punishing her red hair with dropped from her hand to bounce softly on the thick shag rug. The haze of dressing gown over lingerie didn't conceal her long tan legs much and the sight of them made him forget the pain in his shoulder briefly, very briefly.

"What the heck!" said the man in shorts. "Oh, Johnny, be careful," the girl quavered. "He might shoot."

WELL, he hadn't expected to know her. The big boy used different girls for different operations. This one was a looker like the rest. But why didn't she catch on? The big boy had funny ideas about the value of women in work like this.

"Get out," she whispered. "Get out or I'll scream." "Quit it," he said, leaning wearily against the door jamb. "It's okay. Where is he? I got it for him."

"If you don't get out—right now—I'll call the police." What was she talking about, anyway? "You're from 'Dago, ain't you?"

She nodded. "Then it's okay. Now for the love of Mike get him."

Her glance went for the white French phone beside the bed. Anglin put his hand in the pocket of his leather jacket, so when she looked back at him, he held the little black automatic carelessly in his horny palm.

"I don't know what you got in mind, sister. But I ain't got much time. I want to finish the job and get out."

Behind the closed bedroom door, the man began to sing again. "Beautiful dreamer, queen of my song..." Anglin looked at the woman and gestured with the gun.

"That him?" "That's—my husband," she said dry-throated, her greenish eyes hypnotized by the weapon.

"Get him."

"What are you going to do?" He felt dizzy again as the room swam around under his wide hat-brim. This should have been the easy part and instead—"Get out of my way," he husked thickly. He smelled her perfume as he tempt your family's appetites. Just start them cooking, and before you know it you'll be besieged with questions of "How soon are we going to eat?" Nowadays this is true the year round, too—no need to wait until spring for our first taste of "spring lamb," as our fathers and mothers used to do.Does it surprise you to know that there are more than two different kinds of lamb chops? Perhaps you only know of one or two, the favored loin or rib chops, for example. But there are others, too, and it is primarily because they are not well-known that they are often considered a budget buy. Among these are lamb shoulder chops, cut from the arm and blade-bone side of the shoulder, so that they contain the characteristic round arm bone or long slender blade bone.Some people prefer to braise the shoulder chops of lamb, thinking they are less tender than the rib or loin chops. Actually they are just as tender — all cuts of lamb except the shank and breast sections are tender enough to be cooked by roasting, broiling, or panbroiling.To be broiled successfully, any chop should be at least 1 to 1-inch thick, and may be as thick as 2 inches. Place the chops on the rack, and then slip the rack into the broiler so that the surface of the meat is 2 to 3 inches from the heat, the chops are thinner than recommend. That way the chops will have that mended for broiling. This term may "slow-cooked" flavor which is so be new to some folks. Panfrying is famous in meat.The length of cooking time depends on the thickness of the chops.

Usually when the meat turns a delicate brown it is a good indication that it is cooked. Cook until the chops are brown on one side (usually about 8 minutes for 1-inch chops).Season and turn the chops, then brown on the other side, allowing about the same length of time. Season and serve on a hot platter. If chops are seasoned before they are cooked, the salt on the cut surface will draw some of the juices from the meat and keep it from browning attractively.Lamb chops may also be panbroiled, if you have no broiler or if browned, season, and serve very hot.LAMB FOR GOOD EATINGLamb chops—including these meaty shoulder chops—spell good eating to almost everyone. Both the arm and blade-bone chops are shown.
Not only are these chops delicious, but they represent a good buy as far as your budget is concerned, too.VOLKSWAGEN REPAIR

Hitler used to say it would when he promised one to every German work-

It had an unfortunate encounter that day with American traffic.
James Spellman, Jr., was returning was complicated by the car's metri-and grown birds from diseases that afflict them. At this time, too, farmers are white-painting, disinfecting and DDT-ing cow barns, hog pens and other livestock enclosures with the old reliable Carbola to help protect against both germs and flies, and to get sanitary white walls.

DISINFECTANT in Carbola destroys on contact the germs of many profit-taking diseases, including:

Cafe At Franklin Burglarized; $50 In Cash Missing

Money in a March of Dimes container was part of the loot taken by burglars Monday night at the Franklin cafe, operated by Grover M. Caldwell at Franklin. More than $50 in cash was stolen from the cash register, juke box and March of Dimes contribution box.

Mr. Caldwell told Sheriff Ralph

Bourn that the juke box hadn't been opened for several weeks, and that it probably contained $40. Eight dollars was taken from the cash register. Several dollars are believed to have been in the March of Dimes box.

The burglars took nine boxes of cigars, a five pound box of candy and other merchandise.

The burglary was discovered early Tuesday morning by an employee, Mrs. Effie Tannahill, when she arrived at the cafe. The front door lock had been broken.

An investigation was begun by the sheriff, who went to Franklin and inspected the premises.

Alvarez Helps to Plan Pilgrimage To Lincoln Tomb

Attorney Russell J. Alvarez of Jacksonville has been appointed to a special committee to complete arrangements for the annual pilgrimage of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to Abraham Lincoln's tomb in Springfield on Saturday, February 12.

In announcing the appointment of Attorney Alvarez, State Commander Henry L. Warner urged Jacksonville members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to send their colors and a large delegation to participate in the Lincoln Birthday celebration.

Leading the veterans' pilgrimage to Lincoln's tomb in Oak Ridge cemetery this year will be National Commander-in-Chief Loyal T. Beggs of Madison, Wisconsin. The pilgrimage will be made during the noon hour on Lincoln's birthday.

In addition to the ceremonies at Lincoln's tomb, the VFW has a full schedule of other activities for Lincoln's birthday in Springfield. Starting in the morning State Chief of Staff Harry Cosner and State Inspector Charles M. Krause will conduct schools of instruction for assistant chiefs of staff and assistant inspectors. In the afternoon, the VFW and its Auxiliary will hold a joint session at which National Commander Beggs will be the speaker. This will be followed by schools of instruction on publicity, employment and Buddy Poppy campaigns.

One of the highlights of the afternoon sessions will be a model post meeting conducted by state officers of the VFW. This is being staged. VFW officials said, particularly for World War II veterans who are increasingly taking over offices in the VFW.

The veterans' Lincoln day activities will be concluded with a banquet and military ball at the Leland Hotel in the evening.

LEADERS OF FIREMEN'S UNION
NEEDLESS EXTRA ENGINE CREW
LEADERS OF ENGINEERS UNION

This is a diesel ... a modern locomotive that means better service to you.

Leaders of two unions think it's a feather-bed ... a 'make work' grab that means less service to you.

● Leaders of unions representing railroad engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste—a "make-work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher costs—for YOU!

Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you.

Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the front. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman sits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically nothing else to do.

No Benefit To You

Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to use the diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.

The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in this dispute of these two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this featherbedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads—of which the diesel is the outstanding symbol.

Diesel crews are among the highest paid railroad employees—real aristocrats of labor! Their pay is high by any standard. Granting of these demands, therefore, would mean that the railroads would be paying out millions in unearned wages to those in the very highest pay brackets.

We'd Like To Spend This Money On You

You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and convenience. The railroads have many more of them on order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to spend money on better service for you.

Proud as the railroads are of the diesel, it is only a small part of their improvement program. Since the War, literally billions of dollars have been spent on improvement of tracks and stations, on new passenger and freight cars, as well as on diesel locomotives, and on the many other less conspicuous details of railroading that contribute to improved service.

Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You

But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive.

These demands are against YOUR interests—as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work". Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.

That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch—and why they are telling you about them.

Tigers Dump Crimson 40 To 33, Virginia Tamps Rockets

Wilsonmen Capture City Championship, Beat Crimson 40-33

The I.S.D. Tigers captured the city championship last night when they defeated the Crimson on the Illinois School for the Deaf floor by the score of 40-33.

I.S.D. jumped to an early lead, scoring eight points in the first five minutes, while the Crimson were unable to connect for a single point.

Hood, who carried the scoring honors for the contest, accounted for seven of these points. It was all I.S.D. for the first frame with Carlstedt controlling the rebounds and Hood contributing the points. It was a combination which the Crimson were brea-

Hood, Cecil Lead Tigers

The second frame was much as the first, with Hood and Cecil snaring in the scoring honors for I.S.D. and putting them well out in front by half-time by the score of 25-11.

With the start of the second half of the ball game, both teams began to battle in earnest. It was a continual fight for survival as both sides gave all they had to stay in the ball game. The Crimson, led by Chapman, staged a determined rally that had I.S.D. lagging for a moment, but by the end of the third frame the Tigers were able to battle back and still held a 30-21 lead.

Hard Fought Contest

The third frame was marked by considerable fouls as both teams were fighting hard for the ball game and both had plenty of opportunity to show their skill at the charity line. About five minutes of this quarter had passed when the Crimson lost Myer via the foul route.

Spurred on by their gain in the third frame, the Crimson continued to dominate the ball game well into the last quarter. At one time they had pulled to within five points of the Tigers and it looked as if they were on their way. It was then that Cecil began to hit for the Tigers; with this boost the Tigers were able to defend their lead and stall the

New York, Feb. 1—(AP)—Kentucky is the new No. 1 basketball team of the nation, replacing St. Louis University in the third weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportsasters.

A 24-point victory involving the magic name of Notre Dame sent the Wildcats out front for the first time. Kentucky has won 14 and lost 1. St. Louis has a 13-1 mark.

Western Kentucky, 42-40, slipped two pegs from fourth to sixth.

THE OHM BOWS OUT
Bern—P—Switzerland is to abandon the use of international units of electricity, outgated by modern technical developments. Under a law adopted in 1969, the main units for measurement of electric energy were laid down as the international ohm, international ampere, international volt and international watt. These units were based on theoretical absolute units which, at that time, could not be accurately measured. The absolute units are now generally in use, however, and the Swiss government has urged the parliament to amend the law so as to withdraw legal backing from the out-dated international units.

Our Duty To Remain Strong And Ready, Says Col. Armstrong

In a talk here Tuesday evening Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, Illinois Selective Service director, stated, "The farmer has the same obligation to serve as the store-keeper, the boy on the corner or the industrial worker."

Colonel Armstrong spoke to officials from Selective Service Boards of 17 counties. The meeting, held in the circuit court room of the Jacksonville court house, was originally scheduled for Jan. 19, but was postponed because of weather conditions.

Legion Post 279 Welcomes 3 New Members Tuesday

Commander Glenn Spencer presided at the regular meeting of American Legion post 279 held Tuesday evening. Wilbur E. Stafford, Henry J. Meyers and Judge M. Cogswell were accepted as new members. The reinstatement of William H. Strubbe was also voted on and approved.

Reaugh Jennings and Harold McDougall were welcomed to the meeting following their recent hospitalizations. Members also were told that Eldon Spaulding has left Passavant hospital and is improving at his home.

$130 For March of Dimes

Commander Spencer announced that the March of Dimes booth conducted by the post on Monday, January 24, took in $130. He thanked Legion members for their cooperation.

An invitation was extended members of the post by Rev. Frank Marston to attend the address by Lt. Whitaker which will be given Sunday evening at State Street church. Thirty members signified their intention to attend the address.

Commander Spencer appointed James Lakin chairman of the Pacific War Memorial committee.

Discuss Vet Legislation

Proposed legislation affecting veterans was discussed and the post acted to instruct the commander, adjutant and board of directors to send telegrams to the Illinois senators and congressmen urging them to support the pension bill sponsored by the American Legion.

Communications will also be sent to the senators and representatives calling on them to back a bill to provide pensions for widows of veterans who have died since the end of the war.

It was announced that the new colors for the post have arrived and will probably be on display at the next meeting.

SOLICITS FOR MARCH OF DIMES ON ICE SKATES

Glasgow—G. E. Cowper, Glasgow precinct chairman for the current March of Dimes drive, used a unique form of locomotion in canvassing a part of the village for the drive Friday afternoon. He made his calls on ice skates!

With the entire town covered with good skating ice, he dug out an old pair of skates he had not used for over 20 years, knocked off some of the rust, filed the runners a bit, donned them and after a few driblets, fancy and otherwise, while getting back the "feel" of skates, he started out making calls.

The chief trouble with this method of travel was that in having to walk over porch floors, housewires, rugs, linoleums, and other dulling objects, the sharpness of the skates was somewhat diminished to a degree that proper equilibrium became difficult to maintain.

So he finally laid aside the skates and finished his soliciting in his more dependable (and more comfortable) car.

M. R. Range Details Plans For Building New Hospital Here

At the annual meeting of the Passavant Memorial Hospital held at the hospital Thursday evening, January 27th, all officers made their reports for the year 1948.

Included in the reports was that of President M. R. Range, which went into detail on the plans to construct a new hospital in this city with funds contributed by the state and local citizens. The state and government have made grants in the sum of $1,400,000. The report also gave some facts on the progress made thus far toward the building of the new hospital.

Mr. Range's report follows:

To The Honorable Governors, Passavant Memorial Hospital Association:

In my report to you, I do not wish to duplicate any of the departments whose report you will hear during the meeting, so I shall confine in a brief way to some highlights that have transpired during the past year.

In my report a year ago, I told you of the possibilities for grants from the Federal as well as the State governments for $700,000 each, or a total of $1,400,000, provided that we match this with a like amount of $700,000. The grants, both Federal and State, have been approved and the monies set aside for us, as of August 13, 1948, signed by Roland S. Cross, Illinois Department of Public Health.

Edgar Martin Architect

Our next problem was the selection of an architect. You realize that an architect for a hospital should be one who really knows hospitals, and a way to cut the cost to a minimum and, at the same time, have a hospital that will meet every requirement. We are quite proud that Edgar Martin of Chicago, Illinois, was employed to work on the plans for approval. His choice was due to many years of experience in drawings as well as planings of various hospitals, that he has had. I feel sure that with his services, our worries will be cut to a minimum when it comes to the final approval.

The matter of hospital sites has been discussed many times in meetings, and after considering three possible sites including our present site, it was decided unanimously that the location should be on the old Rowe farm, northwest of Jacksonville on Route 104, just three tenths of a mile from the city limits. The building could be erected amid beautiful old pine, hard maple and elm trees, making it an ideal spot for our future hospital. Since the biggest grant that was given us was based upon the new location, there was not very much for us to do in making our selection.

$271,059.23 In Bank

As to the $700,000 for our part, we have, from the campaign of 1945, in cash and government bonds in the Elliott State bank, which was recently audited by Mr. Peer, our certified public accountant, the amount of $271,059.23, with uncollected subscriptions from the other campaign of $39,369.17. Furthermore, the above amount, which represents government bonds is based upon the face value and not the market value, and that would make some difference in our favor.

During the past three years, there has been added to this building amount the sum of $7,330.13 as interest on bonds that we hold from our other campaign. I repeat that the monies from our former campaign have been kept in a separate account with the Elliott State bank, and Francis Rentz has acted as treasurer. We owe a great deal to him for the manner in which he has handled this account.

There is another vital question that our board has decided upon. That is answering the question that has come up before many times, "will the success of any major campaign be more certain with professional direction?" Our answer based upon the last campaign, which you must agree was successful, and checking the records of a number of different organizations which are fund raising institutions, we chose to do about it and when. He saw the sides of both abolitionist and slaveholder, and was at the same time keenly aware of the desperate need to preserve the union.

What he sought was the most simple but the most difficult thing: (1) to show people the wrong of slavery, and (2), to get them to limit it so that eventually it would be stamped out. However, the people would not have it so, and resorted to war.

Lincoln Loved Beauty

On Lincoln's love of beauty Dr. Basler shed some fresh and interesting light. It is a false idea perpetuated by some of Lincoln's biographers, the speaker said, that Lincoln had no appreciation of beauty. Some of his well known remarks about scenic beauty and music Dr. Basler interprets as gently but deliberately stated. Actually Lincoln loved great poetry and read it aloud on occasion; he loved great drama and knew Shakespeare well; and he attended more musical performances, grand opera, symphony, and solo, than any other president.

The speaker felt that Lincoln's education, in spite of his lack of schooling as we now conceive it, was not inferior to that of other youngsters of his day. He mastered the three R's and studied books much finer than many now in use. A deep love of literature and his philosophy of education, "A man is never too old to learn," is another key to his surprisingly broad knowledge and the feeling for rhythm, color, and turn of phrase which characterize his writing and speaking.

Lincolnana Expert Gives Address Here

Any fresh Lincolnana is always fascinating to Americans, and the address by Dr. Roy P. Basler at the MacMurray College chapel Tuesday morning proved this fact. Dr. Basler, executive secretary of the Abraham Lincoln Association of Springfield, is one of the foremost American history scholars in the field of the life and service of Lincoln. For several years he has been preparing for publication a definitive edition of all Lincoln's writings. He entitled his talk "A Fine Life."

The aphorism of a famous French writer, "A fine life is a thought conceived in youth and realized in maturity," said Dr. Basler, "epitomizes the life of Abraham Lincoln. There are two things he conceived in youth which furnish clues to what he realized in maturity: the love of right and the love of beauty."

Many Examples of His Honesty

Quoting a phrase from a letter of Lincoln to Mary Owen, "I want in all cases to do right," Dr. Basler said this attitude characterized all of Lincoln's personal and public relationships. The fact that examples of his honesty have become folklore, even though some are perhaps unauthentic, is evidence that they have a foundation in truth.

Love of right was the keystone to his public life, though clear-cut lines of action according with his beliefs was complicated by the necessity of working through and with others. For example, said Dr. Basler, Lincoln was never in doubt about the wrongness of slavery, but the question in his mind was what

Democracy Cannot Cooperate With Communism: Kohn

"There will be no World War Three due to the strengthening of the Western European spirit of liberty and union," This is the prediction of Dr. Hans Kohn made in Jones Chapel on the Illinois College campus before a mixed audience of students and townspeople.

Dr. Kohn, native of Czechoslovakia and professor at Smith College, is recognized as an outstanding authority on political theory and international relations. He admitted that this was one of the most gloomy periods in European history, but at the same time this very darkness gives greater grounds for hope than at any time in the present century.

There are several reasons for this hope for the future. Most important of them all is the changed attitude of the American people toward their foreign relations. In contrast to 1919 when foreign policy was the football of politics, the present has developed a non-partisan foreign policy and the last election demonstrated to the world that both the anti-British isolationists of the Middle West, and the Soviet fellow travelers under Wallace were repudiated by the bulk of the nation. Our foreign policy is now stable and the western nations feel that they know where we stand.

Cannot Co-Exist

At the same time the advance of Russia has shown that Communism and democracy cannot cooperate or live together. Czechoslovakia has been the testing laboratory in which this was clearly demonstrated. Here in spite of the efforts of the democratic leaders to act in harmony with their Soviet masters, they have been crushed or completely eliminated.

On the other hand the progress of the spirit of unity in the western nations has been amazing. Not only has there been an agreement for a large degree of economic cooperation but long strides have been taken toward political unification. The proposed Atlantic Pact which will be considered in the United States within the next few weeks will be the capstone of a unified resistance of the west to eastern aggression and an alien civilization. Dr. Kohn stated that in his opinion this western unity would maintain the peace of the world.

Peace Not Objective

"Peace must not be and is not our ultimate objective for in the search for peace we too often encourage war. This was the case from 1935 to 1939. Our real objective is the strengthening of liberty for the citizen and respect for the rights of the individual." Stalin is necessary for the realization of this ideal for he has stimulated the West to do something about it. After the first World War there was no stimulus and nothing happened. This is best expressed in the chief philosophers of the two periods. During the twenties Spengler asserted that western civilization was dying if not already dead. In our times Toynbee has said that civilization lives only when it has to meet challenges. The speaker went on to say that the challenge is to present a strong and united front so that the Soviet bloc can have no hope of conquest or domination in the west.

Following the formal lecture Dr. Kohn answered questions from the audience. These served to point up the high lights of the address and enabled the speaker to enlarge on several of the points, especially the need for unity in western culture.

John Steinbeck Film To Be Shown Thursday At I.C.

"The Forgotten Village." John Steinbeck's documentary film on Mexico, will be presented at Illinois College on Thursday at 3:45, 6:15 and 7:30 p.m.

A preview, also open to the public, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3:45. All showings will be in Sturtevant lecture hall.

The film tells the struggle of a backward Mexican village against the forces of superstition and illiteracy. A possible solution is graphically portrayed against the colorful background of local life and customs.

Carrollton C.D. of A. Initiates Class Of 25 Candidates

Carrollton—Twenty-five candidates were initiated in the Court of St. Joan of the Catholic Daughters of America in initiatory ceremonies held here Sunday afternoon in the Knights of Columbus hall. Following the ceremonies a banquet was served by the members of the Knights of Columbus, with the Rev. Father Rathford of Kampsville as the guest speaker.

Other numbers on the program included piano solos by Miss Kathleen Meyer and Miss Alice Kirbach, readings by John Dailey and Johnny Joe Stages, and a vocal solo by Miss Nancy Jane Meyer.
